Furnishings echo the beauty of the service and the good cheer provided.

We are prepared to make a room a fit descendant of the rude but glorious dining halls of the seventeenth century in Flemish and English finished oak. The purity of the Colonial period is shown in mahogany, a happy medium between the breadth and sobriety of the old English and vigor and playfulness of Flemish design.

China Cabinets and Cupboards in these rich woods. Also next antique oak designs for $11.00. Little Carving Tables, $7.50. Inlaid Mahogany Knife Boxes, Brass-Trimmed Mahogany Wine-coolers; Flemish Spoon Racks—not only serve their purpose splendidly, but each tells of some noble tradition and boasts famous ancestry.

Challenge

Challenge

The first week of the Challenge Sale proved a veritable triumphal march. Much as the past record of challenge sales justified us to expect—and perfectly aware of the great attractive force of the values provided for the occasion—we confess we were not quite prepared for such an overwhelming response. But fame follows merit wherever it goes. Good news spreads fast—and better news concerning goods and prices than this Challenge Sale is responsible for was never promulgated by any store.

The second and last week of this remarkable sale begins Monday under more favorable auspices even than the first. We know just what is expected of us—and The Big Store will rise to the occasion. You may therefore come to-morrow prepared to see choice merchandise sold at record-breaking figures—each price cut—and cut to the core, so that when this, our fourth semi-annual Challenge Sale, will take its place in the history of The Big Store alongside its three famous predecessors, it may not have to blush for want of public approval honestly earned.

There Is No Better Place
